POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
January 8, 2015

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

The English program at the University of Rio Grande/Rio Grande Community College announces a tenure-track position in composition at the assistant professor rank. The position is available August 2015.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Rhetoric/Composition or a related field with a specialization in business and technical writing. The successful candidate is primarily responsible for teaching developmental, first-year, and second-year composition courses, business and technical writing courses, and upper-division writing courses. Secondary interests in assessment and developmental reading and writing are highly desirable. The successful candidate will help develop a business/technical writing program for the institution.

All full-time members of the English program teach a minimum of twenty-four credits of upper- and lower-level courses per academic year, including the general education composition sequence. Faculty members are also expected to advise students and serve on committees.

For consideration, please send letter of application, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation (sent directly by references or confidential placement file) about teaching ability, evidence of effective teaching of different levels of undergraduate students, and representative syllabi for writing courses taught (include sample assignments with grading criteria) to:

Mr. Chris Nourse
Director of Human Resources
Email: HR@rio.edu
Fax: 740.245.7972

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For best consideration, please apply by January 31, 2015. Background check and official transcripts required prior to hire.
