

The Clery Act

Choosing a postsecondary institution is a major decision for students and their families. Along with academic, financial and geographic considerations, the issue of campus safety is a growing concern.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (CLERY Act) is a federal mandate requiring all institutions of higher education that participate in the federal student financial aid program to disclose information about crime on their campuses and in the surrounding communities. The CLERY Act affects virtually all public and private higher education institutions and is enforced by the Department of Education. Campuses that fail to comply with the act can be penalized with large fines and may be suspended from participating in the federal financial aid program.

The Clery Act, formerly known as the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act, was signed in 1990 and is named after 19-year-old Jeanne Clery, who was raped and murdered in her Lehigh University residence hall in 1986. Clery's parents lobbied Congress to enact the law when they discovered students at Lehigh had not been notified about 38 violent crimes that had occurred on campus in the three years prior to Clery's murder.

Compliance with the Clery Act

The Clery Act requires the University of Rio Grande (URG) to provide timely warnings of crimes that represent a threat to the safety of students or employees and to make their campus security policies available to the public. The act also requires URG to collect, report and disseminate crime data to everyone on-campus and to the Department of Education annually.

To be in full compliance with the law, URG must do the following:

1. Publish and distribute an Annual Security Report to the current and prospective students and employees by October 1st of each year.
2. The University of Rio Grande must also keep and make available to the public a detailed crime log of all crimes reported to them in the past 60 days.
3. Keep the past three years of crime statistics detailing crimes that have occurred: on-campus; in university residential facilities; and in public areas on or near campus. URG must also report liquor and drug law violations and illegal weapons possession if they result in a disciplinary referral or arrest.
4. Disclose missing student notification procedures that pertain to students residing in any on-campus student housing facilities.
5. Disclose fire safety information related to any on-campus student housing facilities. This includes maintaining a fire log that is open to public inspection and publishing the fire statistics in the Annual Safety Report.
6. Submit the collected crime and fire statistics to the Department of Education each fall.

Campus Safety

This report contains campus crime statistics and critical campus safety information such as policies, crime prevention, crime reporting, and resources to aid you in becoming more safety-minded. The best protections against campus crime are: a strong law enforcement presence; an aware, informed and alert campus community; and a commitment to reporting suspicious activities and using common sense when carrying out daily activities. URG strives to be a safe place to learn, live, work and grow.

Law Enforcement Authority

The primary objective of the department is to provide a safe and healthy environment that enhances the campus learning experience and complements the University's education mission.

The University of Rio Grande Campus Police is a full-service law enforcement agency that operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, from its headquarters at 504 E. College Street. The department employs certified sworn officers who patrol the campus.

The University of Rio Grande police department is the law enforcement agency serving URG. The department works very closely with the Rio Grande Village, the Gallia County Sheriff's Department, and the Ohio State Highway Patrol in the enforcement and investigation of federal, state, and local statutes, as well as university regulations. The department has a staff of one full-time police chief, one full-time supervisor, three full-time police officers and one part time officer, all trained by the Ohio Peace Officers Training Academy and the American Red Cross. The office also employs a full-time secretary. The officers are uniformed and armed, are commissioned by the University with full enforcement and arrest powers. Officers provide vehicle and foot patrols throughout the campus community.

Accurate and Timely Reporting of Criminal Offenses

Prompt and accurate reporting of criminal offenses aids in providing a timely response and timely warning notices to the community when appropriate. This assists in compiling accurate crime statistics. Community members, students, faculty, staff, and guests are encouraged to report all crimes and public safety related incidents in an accurate and timely manner to the University of Rio Grande Police Department.

To report a crime or an emergency on the University of Rio Grande campus, call 9-1-1. To report a non-emergency security or public safety matter, call URG campus police at 7286 on a campus phone or 740-245-7286 from an off-campus phone or cell phone.

Access to and Security of Campus Facilities

Generally, administrative offices are open for public access from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, after which exterior doors are locked. Classroom and other buildings used for academic purposes are secured when not in session.

A Head Resident Assistant (HRA) supervises each residence hall. These staff members are responsible for day-to-day operation of the residence halls. Residence Halls are locked at all times. The Head Resident Assistant and the Resident Assistant (RA) staff monitor access to residence halls.

Missing Student Notification

The University of Rio Grande has developed a comprehensive protocol for dealing with missing students. The policy can be viewed in its entirety by accessing the University main web page at www.rio.edu going to quick links, to campus police, and clicking on missing student policy. Anyone who learns of a student missing for 24 hours is encouraged to notify campus police at 245-7286. University resident assistants, and other campus safety authorities are required to notify campus police upon learning of any student missing for 24 hours.

Resident students of the university have the option to register a confidential contact person to be notified in the case the student is determined to be missing, and that only authorized campus officials and law enforcement officers in the furtherance of a missing person investigation may have access to this information. Should a student opt to not register a confidential contact person, campus and other law enforcement will be notified that the student is missing.

For a student reported missing less than 18 years old and is not legally emancipated, a parent or guardian will be notified. All missing student reports shall be immediately forwarded to the campus police department. All actions the University officials will take after a student is reported missing is contained in the missing student policy located on the University web site.

Emergency Response and Evacuation

The University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College has in print form a comprehensive emergency response plan and safety manual. These documents are available for public inspection at the Campus Police Department Monday through Friday during business hours.

The University has procedures in place to immediately notify the campus community upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus. Students and employees can opt into the University's (free) emergency text message system to receive emergency notifications. Students and staff can register for the emergency text message system from the main web page at www.rio.edu. In addition, to receiving a text message participant will also receive an instant email at an address of their choosing that is generated automatically as an added feature of the University's emergency text messaging system called NIXLE.

The University has also acquired and installed an outdoor early warning system to alert the campus community of pending emergencies. The system consists of a large siren mounted on a telephone pole that rotates 360 degrees that can be heard up to 1½ miles away indoors or out alerting all on campus of an emergency. The system emits different tones that represent different emergencies. Students and employees can access the main web page at www.rio.edu to familiarize themselves with the outdoor early warning system.

The University will without delay and considering the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system(s), unless doing so will in the professional judgment of the authorities, compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Upon learning of a possible emergency, the University Chief of Police/Safety Director will consult with the Executive Vice President and the President to determine the legitimacy of the emergency, who to notify, the content of the notification, and initiate the notification system. If necessary, the Police Chief/Safety Director will disseminate emergency information to other first responders outside of the campus community.

The University conducts at least one announced emergency response exercise a year along with other community partners and first responders.

In the event of an emergency or dangerous situation, the campus may direct students, staff, and guests to evacuate a building, several buildings, a portion of the campus, or the entire campus.

How to be an Active Bystander

Bystanders play a critical role in the prevention of sexual and relationship violence. They are individuals who observe violence or witness the conditions that perpetuate violence. They are not directly involved but have the choice to intervene, speak up, or do something about it. We want to promote a culture of community accountability where bystanders are actively engaged in the prevention of violence without causing further harm. We may not always know what to do even if we want to help. Below is a list of some ways to be an active bystander. If you or someone else is in immediate danger, dial 911. This could be when a person is yelling at or being physically abusive towards another and it is not safe for you to interrupt.

- Watch out for your friends and fellow students/employees. If you see someone who looks like they could be in trouble or need help, ask if they are ok.
- Confront people who seclude, hit on, and try to make out with, or have sex with people who are incapacitated.
- Speak up when someone discussed plans to take advantage of another person.
- Believe someone who discloses sexual assault, abusive behavior, or experience stalking.
- Refer people to on or off campus resources listed in this document for support in health or counseling.

Communication about Campus Crime

Timely Warnings

The University of Rio Grande will issue a timely warning when it receives a report of a crime or series of crimes, on campus or in the surrounding communities, that is considered to pose a continuing risk to students, faculty and staff.

Campus Police maintains a continuous liaison with the Rio Village Police, Gallia County Sheriff's office, and the State Highway Patrol, especially when a serious crime occurs on adjacent property to the campus.

It is the policy of the Campus Police to alert the campus community to certain crimes and safety/security issues occurring on campus, or in the immediate vicinity of the campus. Generally, this area will include the streets adjacent and/or adjoining campus property. However, notifications about incidents occurring outside of this area when they are likely to have a significant impact on members of the campus community may also be issued.

Alerts are required for all incidents that constitute Jeanne Clery Act Crimes and are considered to represent a serious or continuing threat to the campus community. These crimes include: Murder and Non-Negligent Manslaughter, Sex Offenses, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Motor Vehicle Theft, Arson and Hate Crimes.

Confidential Reporting to Pastoral and/or Professional Counselors

Under the law, campus pastoral and professional counselors, when acting as such, are not considered a campus security authority and are not required to report crimes for inclusion in the annual disclosure of campus crime statistics. As a matter of policy; however, the Campus Police Department encourages all parties to inform potential victims, when appropriate, of procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

Daily Crime Log

The Campus Police Department maintains a daily log listing all reported crimes. The log lists the date, time reported, time occurred, general location and disposition if this information is known at the time the log is created. Certain information may temporarily be withheld to protect a victim or maintain the integrity of an in-progress criminal investigation. The daily crime log is available for public inspection during normal business hours at the Campus Police office.

Security Procedures

Security procedures are communicated to members of the university community through several on-going efforts. The following list specifies the medium and the audience:

- The annual “Right to Know” pamphlet - employees, students, prospective students
- The Student Handbook – students
- Residence Hall Programs - resident students

- Personnel Bulletins – employees
- Daily Crime Statistic Updates-available upon request from the University police department.
- Security cameras are installed in all parking lots and at the entrances and corridors of all resident halls, and in a few select other areas on campus.
- Access Controls on the entrances of all resident halls.

Security Considerations

Proper lighting and building security are major factors in reducing crime on campus. The University Maintenance department maintains the University buildings and grounds with a concern for safety and security. Inspections of campus facilities are conducted regularly, and repairs are made as quickly as possible. All members of the campus community are encouraged to report to the Maintenance Department, any safety hazards, such as broken locks and windows, lighting issues, obstacles, and other items that could impede someone's safety on the campus.

Campus Safety Escorts

We encourage all members of the campus community to use common sense and practice good personal safety techniques at all times. Students and employees alike are encouraged to walk in pairs and groups especially during the hours of darkness. However, when this is not possible, please use the campus escort service by calling Campus Police at 740-245-7286. Available 24-hours a day, 7-days a week, a police officer will be glad to escort someone to/from class, residence hall or parking lots/facilities.

Alcohol and Drug Free Workplace Statement

University of Rio Grande prohibits the unlawful or unauthorized manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, use or sale of alcoholic beverages, controlled substances, and illegal drugs on campus. The impairment by alcohol or drugs of any student or employee while participating in an academic function, or of employees during normal work hours or other times when required to be at work – is also prohibited. University of Rio Grande employees and students are required to abide by all federal and state laws, local ordinances, and other related requirements regarding the consumption or possession of alcoholic beverages, controlled substances, and illegal drugs.

Alcoholic Beverages

The possession and use of alcoholic beverages by students on the campus of the University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College is prohibited and strictly enforced. The only exception is alcohol at approved social functions. The excessive use of alcoholic beverages on or off the campus is prohibited and may result in disciplinary action. Any conduct which is in violation of the Ohio Liquor Control Law (title 43 of the Ohio Revised Code), on or off campus, is prohibited and strictly enforced. Students are legally responsible to civil authorities for violations of the alcohol laws of the State of Ohio and the Village of Rio Grande.

The alcohol policy is intended to define guidelines for those students who choose to use alcoholic beverages. The alcohol policy promotes responsible use of alcohol and is consistent with the laws of the State of Ohio.

- Alcohol is not permitted in the Residence Halls. This would include all open and unopened cans, bottles decanters, kegs or any and all other forms of alcohol beverage packaging. (Residual alcohol beverage liquid need not be present to be in violation.)
- Advertising regarding alcohol or alcohol related events must be approved by the Director of Residence of Life.
- Any off-campus event held by a recognized University or Community College organization must comply with the laws of the State of Ohio.
- The University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College reserves the right to use parental notification after two alcohol violations if the student is under the age of 21 years.
- All student organizations sponsoring social events that will have alcoholic beverages are permitted during Greek Games. Failure to abide by University and Community College regulations may result in denial of future social events, disciplinary action, and/or temporary suspension to the sponsoring organization.

Health Risk of Alcohol

The United States Department of Education has provided the following information concerning health risks of alcohol. Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increases the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are a greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Some people are more susceptible to becoming addicted to alcohol than are others. This addiction, called alcoholism, is more likely to occur if a person drinks alcohol regularly at a young age (before 18) and/or if a parent, grandparent, aunt, uncle, brother, or sister is an alcoholic. There is, as yet, no way to know who is most susceptible to developing alcoholism or any other adverse health effect from alcohol.

Illegal Drugs

As academic institutions, the University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College's goals are to alleviate the problem of illegal drug use, preferably in a manner that educates rather than one that punishes. However, the University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College are subject to the same local, state, and federal laws that govern all citizens, including those that concern the use, sale, and possession of drugs. Therefore, engaging in such illegal actions will be subject to disciplinary procedure up to and including suspension and expulsion. Individuals cannot be protected by the University or Community College from the possible additional legal consequences of their acts.

Regulations

- University of Rio Grande and Rio Grande Community College consider the use, possession, cultivations, sale, distribution, or transfer of any unlawful drug, including marijuana, unacceptable behavior and incompatible with the educational goals of the University and Community College.
- Students are considered to be responsible adult citizens, and as such, are subject to criminal law. In accordance with federal as well as local laws, the illegal use, possession, cultivation, sale, distribution, or transfer of any drug, narcotic, or hallucinogenic substance, including marijuana, is strictly prohibited.
- Remaining in an environment where illegal substances are being used constitutes grounds for disciplinary action.
- Misconduct resulting from the illegal possession, consumption, sale, cultivation, transfer of drugs, or narcotics renders the person subject to action ranging from rehabilitative consultation, probation, dismissal from the residence halls and up to and including suspension or dismissal from the University or Community College.
- The University or Community College's disposition of individual cases does not preclude criminal prosecution in accordance with federal and/or state laws.

Counseling and Treatment

There is no certain way to know who is most likely to develop drug dependence, but it is known that people who have developed dependence on substances or have family members who are dependent on substances are at greater risk. Any person who has had a mental health disorder or other mental health problems has a high risk of adverse reactions to illicit substances. Those who are frequently depressed, have suicidal thoughts or have had hallucinations/delusions should avoid street drugs because using them could make symptoms worse, or cause a relapse. If a student feels that they may have a problem with substance use, they may contact Mental Wellbeing by calling 740-245-7439 or emailing wellbeing@rio.edu to be connected to a local substance use treatment facility. An ongoing problem with alcohol or drug abuse may result in suspension or expulsion of the student.

Tobacco Policy

The University of Rio Grande strongly discourages the use of any and all tobacco products. Campus buildings and grounds are designated as tobacco-free. For further detail, please visit rio.edu.

Preventing and Responding to Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault, and Stalking

The University of Rio Grande (URG) will not tolerate domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, or other forms of sexual misconduct. Offenders may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, and/or criminal proceedings. URG utilizes procedures that provide prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution in cases involving any type of sexual misconduct. These procedures are carried out by officials who receive specific annual training.

The University of Rio Grande prohibits retaliation by its officers, employees, students, or agents against a person who exercises his or her rights or responsibilities under any provision federal or state law, including Title IX and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA), or this policy.

Education and Prevention Programs

- The University provides prevention and awareness programming for students and employees concerning sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, consent, reporting options, bystander intervention, risk reduction, available resources, and protection against retaliation.
- The University trains residential life staff, on risk factors, warning signs of abusive behavior, as well as risk reduction for sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, as well as how to avoid potential attacks or incidents;
- Campus Police works cooperatively with various university programs regarding curricular development and faculty and staff development. A woman's self-defense course was offered at no costs to the campus community in October of 2016.

Risk Reduction Tips

With no intent to victim blame and recognizing that only rapists are responsible for rape, the following are some strategies to reduce one's risk of sexual assault or harassment.

- Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to get out of a bad situation.
- Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
- Trust your instincts. If a situation or location feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it probably is not the best place to be. If you see something or someone suspicious contact law enforcement immediately by calling 245-7286.
- Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
- Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged.
- Do not allow yourself to be isolated with someone you don't know or trust.
- Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.
- When you go to a social gathering, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together.

Assistance for Victims

Regardless of whether an individual elects to pursue a criminal complaint or file a formal Title IX complaint, the University will provide information regarding available resources and supportive measures. As appropriate and reasonably available, supportive measures may include mental health counseling, survivor advocates, extensions of deadlines or other course-related adjustments, modifications of work or class schedules, campus escort services, restrictions on contact (i.e., no contact directives), changes in class, work or housing locations, facility restrictions, leaves of absence, increased security or monitoring, and other similar measures. Supportive measures are available without fee or charge and may be provided before or after the filing of a formal complaint or where no formal complaint has been filed.

An individual may report sexual harassment or other sexual misconduct and receive information about available resources and supportive measures without filing a formal complaint or initiating the University's formal Title IX investigation and hearing process. Supportive measures may be available before or after the filing of a formal complaint or when no formal complaint is filed. Information will be handled with privacy consistent with applicable law and the University's ability to provide supportive measures and respond to safety concerns.

Victim's Bill Of Rights

You have the right to. . .

- Be informed of all reporting options.
- Be free from pressure to make a criminal report
- Have any allegations of sexual assault investigated and adjudicated by the appropriate campus, civil, and criminal authorities.
- Be notified of existing campus and community medical, counseling, and mental health services whether or not the crime is reported to campus or civil authorities.
- Receive, when required, the full, prompt cooperation of campus personnel when obtaining, securing, and preserving evidence.

Sexual Assault Response Guarantee from the University of Rio Grande and Campus Police

Law enforcement services are provided through the University's Campus Police Department; police officers are trained in working with victims of sexual assault and know the requirements for preserving evidence.

What victims can expect:

- We will meet with you privately or at a place of your choice to file a complaint report.
- We will not release your name to the public or press. Crime statistics and incidents are made public record, but any identifying information will be withheld.

- Our officers will not prejudge you, and you will not be blamed for what occurred.
- We will treat you and your particular case with courtesy, sensitivity, dignity, understanding, and professionalism.
- We will assist you in receiving hospital, medical, counseling, and other support services that are available.
- We will fully investigate your case and will help you to achieve the best outcome. You will be kept informed of the progress of the investigation.
- We will consider your case seriously, regardless of your gender and sexual orientation, and regardless of the gender and sexual orientation of the suspect(s).

What to Do If You Become a Victim

- Call a support person, someone who can provide emotional support, transportation, and assistance. You may choose a counselor, nurse, staff, faculty person, Resident Assistant, Head Resident Assistant, or a friend on campus.
- Get immediate medical attention. A health professional needs to determine the extent of your injuries and necessary treatment. The University will provide transportation at your request. Expenses associated with your trip to the hospital may be covered under the Ohio Victims of Crime Program.
- Do not bathe or douche and save all your clothing. Evidence for a criminal case may be present on your clothes. If you change clothes, save what you were wearing and place it in a Paper Bag. (Not Plastic)
- While the University encourages the victim to report a sexual assault incident, (see Contact Information inside front cover for phone numbers) the final decision rests with the victim. One can report the incident and later decide not to prosecute. The longer one waits to report a problem, the more difficult it may be to later prosecute. A Counselor is available if there is a need to discuss the incident with someone.
- Campus Police are there to help. The officers have received special training regarding sexual assault and will work with the victim throughout the entire process. Initially, all contact with Campus Police, Health Services, and Counseling will be considered confidential.
- *Paper Bags may be obtained from the Head Resident Assistant, Campus Police, or Health Services.

Title IX Reports, Supportive Measures, and Resolution Procedures

A report of sexual harassment or other sexual misconduct does not, by itself, initiate the University's formal Title IX investigation and hearing process. Individuals may report conduct and request supportive measures without filing a formal complaint. Supportive measures may include mental health counseling, survivor advocates, extensions of deadlines or other course-related adjustments, modifications of work or class schedules, campus escort services, restrictions on contact (i.e., no contact directives) , changes in class, work or housing locations, facility restrictions, leaves of absence, increased security or monitoring, and other similar measures.. Where a formal complaint is filed or signed by the Title IX Coordinator, the University follows the investigation, resolution, hearing, and appeal procedures set forth in its current Title IX Policy. The preponderance of the evidence standard applies to determinations of responsibility under that process. Conduct that does not proceed under the Title IX process may be addressed under other applicable University policies and procedures. For the complete and current Title IX policy and procedures, visit www.rio.edu/about-rio/title-ix or contact the Title IX Coordinator at TitleIXCoordinator@rio.edu

Fire Safety

The University of Rio Grande/Rio Grande Community College Campus Police and Safety Department takes fire safety very seriously. All of the University of Rio Grande resident halls are equipped with an integrated fire alarm system that is centrally monitored 24/7 by Security Technologies; furthermore, resident assistants and head resident assistants are present in each dorm to supplement fire and safety monitoring. All dormitory rooms in the residence halls are subject to health and safety inspections twice annually. The Rio Grande Fire Department is located directly adjacent to the Rio Grande Campus, making response times extremely quick. At least four fire drills are conducted each year. Fire safety training exercises such as The Great American Smoke Out are conducted annually with students and staff. Facilities are inspected by the State Fire Marshall's Office, and the Rio Grande Fire Department at will. Open flames, smoking, and some electrical appliances are prohibited in the residence halls for the safety of our students. A complete list of prohibited items can be found in the Student Handbook. An electronic copy of the student handbook can be found on the University's web site at www.rio.edu from the main page click on quick links to student services and click on student handbook. All resident students are trained in evacuation procedures annually. For comprehensive evacuation procedures, persons can review the safety manual and emergency operation plans in print in the Campus Police office Monday through Friday during business hours. All fires should immediately be reported by first dialing 9-911 on a campus extension or 911 by cell phone; furthermore, fires should be reported immediately to Campus Police at 7286 on a campus extension, or 245-7286. Residence assistants and within the residence hall in which a fire is reported should also be notified. Campus Police is required to maintain a daily fire log that can be viewed upon request by anyone at the Campus Police office Monday through Friday during business hours.
