Smoke Puffs

Soul Food

Monday will mark the recognition of National Negro (Black) History Week. Moreover, on Wednesday, February 21, the Black Student Union will feature a "Soul Food Day". It's called soul food because a "soul" brother (Alvis Moore) and his "soul" staff will do the cooking. The menu will consist of: Soul Fried Chicken, Potato Salad, Green Beans, Hot Homemade Buttered Rolls, Homemade Marble Pound Cake or Sweet Potato Pie, all this for only $1.75.

A booth for orders will be set up in the cafeteria. The deadline for orders is Tuesday. Incidentally, those who place early orders will have their dinners delivered to them. Black is beautiful, we all know, so see how delicious it is and purchase a soul dinner.

Crop Walk

The Christian College Association had a very successful CROP walk last Sunday. We have collected $66.55 to date and we still have a lot more pledges to collect. Thanks to all who supported us by pledging money. Our group now has study material which we base our discussions. Everyone is invited to come, look at the material and participate in the discussions. We meet at 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday evenings.

May God Bless Your Life.

Senate Meets

Dave Coffman and Brad Krings received $125 for the maintenance of WAXN, the college radio station at the first meeting of the newly elected student senate.

A student committee which will work with Mr. Hoff to help prevent the destruction of the center by visitors was proposed.

Deb Fraeger and Ned Reagle were appointed alternate associate justices.

College coordinating committee was formed. Dr. Evans is to serve as chairman with Pam Black and one other student as members.

College Cluster Committee will meet with the senate March 4, 5.

Presidents Line Up Black Week

By Lloyd Brewton

The Black Student Union of Rio Grande College has a program of activities lined up for next week, February 19-23, in observance of the nationally recognized National Negro History Week. The events include a couple of guest speakers, a film, a soul food day and a dance-party. All of the scheduled activities are free of charge except the meal day which is planned for Wednesday, February 21. The film will be a brief history of the movement of the late Dr. Martin Luther King; the film is stated to be about three hours long. As of press time, the film is slated for Monday, Feb. 19 in the cafeteria but may be changed to a later date in the week. All of the events are subject to last minute changes, but notices will be placed all over the campus and in the dorms if any changes are made.

One guest speaker will be on campus Tuesday, February 20, in the cafeteria at 1:30 p.m. Professor Stall (B.A., M.A.) from the Ohio State University, a Black History teacher who teaches Afro-American history and also is a professional painter, will lecture on "The Black Perspective in the Arts". Wednesday, February 21, meals will be served to people who put in orders. Anyone wishing to place an order to get a dinner should get in touch with Alvis Moore no later than Monday. Thursday, February 22, will be officially open house at the B.S.U. Center (Bohn House) and guest speaker, Professor Rod Sampson (B.A., M.A.) will lecture at the same time on "The Psychology of Slavery".

Faculty members are urged to attend this event, as well as all of the other events! The time for the lecture is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday, Cont. on Page 3

Fred Bouic -- Familiar Sight At Rio

Mr. Fred Bouic

Fredric V. Bouic is a very prominent figure on the Rio Grande College campus and yet very few people know about him. Maybe this article will fill you in on the gentleman.

Mr. Bouic is a native of Watkins, Ohio. On July 25, in 1884, he was born to Isaac W. and Eva Jane Bouic. Very little is known about the first twenty years of his life. Mr. Bouic has graduated from many institutions of higher learning. In 1904 he graduated from Ohio Northern with a Bachelor of Education and Bachelor of Red. From the same university he received a Bachelor of Science in 1905. The year 1910 was a big one for Mr. Bouic, he married Ada Kirkland on September 28 and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio State University.

He also received his Bachelor of Law Degree from Hamilton College in 1917 and his Master of Social Sciences at University of Cincinnati in 1945.

During his years of education he taught at several public schools, the first being Brown school in Union County from 1902 to 1903. The next twenty years he taught at different schools in Ohio. He was a principal from 1911 to 1922.

teaching profession to explore other facets of life. First he sold life insurance for Banker's Life Insurance Company of Wheeling, West Virginia. At the end of ten years he went to Havana, Cuba for seven years to work in the sugar business. Then in 1939 he returned to native Ohio to be a farmer for two years.

The teaching profession again entered Mr. Bouic's life in 1941. He taught in the Ordinance Department at the University of Cincinnati. He left there and taught in schools throughout Ohio until he came to Rio Grande in 1950. Mr.

Public Hearings On Community College

By Dwight Shumway

A public hearing on the proposed Rio Grande Community College was held Monday evening in the college cafeteria. The hearing was attended by the nine members of the Community College Board, and by Dr. Raymond Young, consultant.

Dr. Young reported the findings of an "extensive study" aimed at determining the need for a community college serving Vinton, Jackson, Meigs and Gallia Counties. Data assembled from several sources, including statistics from the Ohio Employment Bureau, showed that many tangible economic benefits should accrue from the establishment of such an institution.

Dr. Young presented the results of a series of surveys administered to local citizens to help determine their educational desires and expectations. A survey of local high school seniors indicated that the percentage who plan to continue their education beyond high school is much smaller than the percentage nationwide. But many are interested in obtaining a two year liberal arts education while living at home — preliminary in many cases to completion of degree requirements at a four year college. Seniors expressed interest in careers in mechanical technology, forestry, electronics, agriculture and law enforcement.

Questionnaires sent to the parents of local fifth grade students revealed widespread interest in adult education beyond the high school level. Fathers were interested primarily in training for jobs in business administration, laboratory technology, electronics and drafting. Mothers expressed interest in expanding occupational fields such as nursing and data processing, as well as desires to "round out" their general cultural background.

Also contacted were all employers in the four county area who employ ten workers or more. They indicated a need for skilled auditors, bookkeepers, accountants, and auto mechanics. Also in short supply are welders, para-medical health care workers, firemen and security personnel.

Mrs. Campbell is an employee at the Rio Grande College Cafeteria. She's the cashier and takes the numbers from R.G.C. students. When asked how she remembers all of the numbers she said "I really don't know. I guess I associate the faces with the numbers and the way they say it." She remembers the numbers of each student three times a day. She says "there are around 300 meals served each time."

Mrs. Campbell says she likes the R.G.C. students and that they treat her very nice.

Mrs. Campbell's hobbies are: reading, swimming, and being a housewife.

Can a person serve two masters simultaneously, or in this case two terms? Our chief justice also holds a seat on the Student Senate.

It appears that this situation might produce a conflict of interest. A person in that situation might be spreading himself a little thin. Too thin, in fact, to give either position the amount of time and concentration that both jobs deserve.

Looking back at the last major decision made by the student judiciary, one might say that the chief justice was applying herself even before the last election. Of course this could not possibly be totally the chief justice's fault.

The following is: the Case of the Lost Temper or Be Careful About what You Say or You May Be Mashed.

Student A yells from a window to student B, "F—you."

Fifteen minutes later student B returns to the room where student A was calling from the window.

With student A offering no resistance student B pinned student A down. After much "soul revealing" talk student B lets student A up. Students to leave the room. More defiant verbal abuse comes from student A. Among the comments Student A says "I'll puke on your mother's grave." For the last comment, Student A received a mangled face.

LATER — Student A goes to the Dean of the students for advice on what course of action should be taken. The dean, believing in the fair mindedness of the student judiciary suggests that student A go through the proper channels to eradicate the "misunderstanding."

Student B appeared at a hearing; he made no plea, but entered no contest.

The judiciary, after deliberating, returns to tell B that they must give him some sort of punishment. They sentence him to unrecorded social probation. It was a first offense. Next time they will deal more harshly with the guilty party.

Student B, the student who inflicted the bruises on Student A was told he could sue student A for slander.

MORAL:

If you're planning to tell a person off — tie his hands first.

No Stamps Necessary

In these days of toil or trouble we see basic Bible truths are still as solid as before.

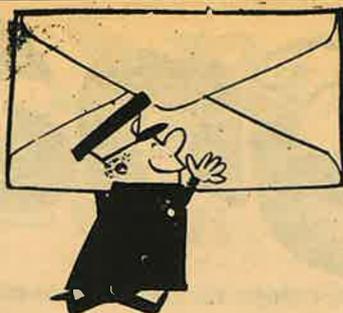

When the clouds of doubt cloud the bright sky there is always a bright way of overcoming all things; for Philippians 4:13 tells us that "ALL things are possible through Christ that strengthens me" then we look to Philippians 4:4 that says "Rejoice in the Lord always and again I say rejoice." In I Thessalonians 5:18 Paul tells us "In everything give thanks for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." You see by praising the Lord we release the true power of God. Yes, Praise the Lord is REAL power in the life of a believer.

For John 3:16 tells us that: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son that whosoever believeth on Him should have everlasting life."

Whosoever means YOU!!!!

Shymski

Dear Editor,

This letter is in regards to the Shymski. This meek little fellow (as he may appear on first sight) is after all of the Rio Grande student body's feet. Yes, their feet!

I have been attacked by this little devil and he's a mean so and so. But this is how I got rid of him. First of all, one must have a Sears mail order catalog and a rolling pin. This is to beat him off when he attacks you. Then if you don't have a catalog or rolling pin you sleep with your shoes on. See he can only get your feet when they are bare. So if you want your feet it would be best if you take heed to my warning. For the Shymski shall strike soon.

Cordially,
Mrs. Shymski

Please!!

Dear Editor,

This is a request for the Zeta Theta Chi pledges to please have mercy on the GDI's. I realize that it is a part of your "thing" to "rise and shine" at six or seven a.m., but please, PLEASE keep your mouths shut at that ungodly hour. I also realize that a person can only be so quiet, but I fail to see the necessity of yelling at each other from first floor to second floor. PLEASE control yourselves.

Thank You,
A Sleepy GDI

Campus Radio

Dear Students,

Just a little note to let you know that WAXN is progressing well. The Student Senate and activities committee have helped the radio station by giving money to improve it.

Mr. Grace also donated time to wire the radio studio for the station. Mr. Ross was a great help in beginning and maintaining the station.

Keep listening to 88.3 WAXN.

Community College

Employers in two West Virginia counties where many local residents are employed need chemical technologists, field supervisors and clerical workers.

Dr. Young reported that preliminary studies of available facilities suggest the advisability of housing the Community College within the existing Rio Grande College. Only the renovation of one building, the addition of a wing to the library, and an expansion of parking facilities would be required before the college could begin operation. Future plans would almost certainly include construction of an occupational trades building, according to Young. Improvements and additions costing roughly $1.5 million should be anticipated. Dr. Young emphasized that community colleges often outlay 19 to 20 million dollars in initial construction costs.

The Community College Board may work either toward establishment of a completely independent institution, or contract with Rio Grande College for the services of its faculty. Benefits to Community College students under the contract system include academic credit transferable as credit from Rio Grande College, and exposure to an experienced faculty who are familiar with the educational needs of students from this area.

Submission of a detailed draft of the proposed Rio Grande Community College to the Ohio Board of Regents is the next step toward establishing a permanent institution. If the Board approves the plan without revision, voters in Jackson, Gallia, Meigs and Vinton Counties could be asked to support the College with passage of a one mill levy in May.

"Reo Rio"

(Ed. Note: The following is a commentary on Rio Grande College. This is the work of three students—their initials are added to the work.)

Dear Mom and Dad,

My semester at school is just about over. Rio Grande is a nice place to camp—30,000,000 mosquitos can't be wrong. They told us that every room overlooked a beautiful canyon. They also overlook inside toilets, mattresses and running water. My room is so small, the mice are hunchbacked. It does have a nice bath . . . I'd rather have a bed.

The cabin is modern—it has chrome doorknobs, chrome banisters, chrome window sills—a matter of fact, it's the chromiest room I've ever been in. They have an Indian Village here. An old chief lives there and his name is Chief Running Water. He has three sons, Hot, Cold, and Luke. When I visited there, Luke wasn't feeling so hot.

Really, this is the place for mosquitos. It's getting so you don't want to swat any of them because you don't want to kill your own flesh and blood. We got up early and went water skiing on the pit this morning. First time I ever went. One ski went "one way", the other went the other way . . . I thought I'd split! While I was recuperating the camp nurse told me to drink a glass of warm milk after a hot bath. Dumb nurse, I couldn't even finish drinking the hot bath.

Love,
B.E.D.

Rio's MLT's Score High In Tests

Officials of the Medical Laboratory Technician (MLT) program at Rio Grande College received word recently from the American Society of Clinical Pathologists that the first Rio Grande MLT class passed their examinations with high scores. The report was forwarded to the Medical Center by Robert Hertz, of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, Chicago, Ill.

Of a possible 200 points, Rio Grande students averaged 120.11. This was considerably higher than the national average of 112.79. The minimum score of 93 is required to pass the examination, and all nine Rio Grande students scored above 100.

The MLT program covers two years and is operated jointly by Rio Grande College and Holzer Medical Center. The first year's work is completed on the Rio Grande campus and the second year at the Holzer Medical Center laboratory.

Dr. J. A. deLamerens, Holzer Medical Center Pathologist and Clinical Director of the MLT program, said he felt the accomplishment of the first graduating class was a remarkable feat.

"This is not an easy examination," he said, "many people have to take it more than once to pass. To have an entire class pass with such high scores on the first try speaks well of both the program and the students who enrolled. I am very proud of both."

Steve Elberfeld, educational coordinator of the MLT program, works with the students during their second year practical laboratory training at Holzer Medical Center. He too expressed his delight that the first class made such a good showing.

Ken Myers, project director for MLT on the Rio Grande campus, works with the student during their first year in the program. He said these nine students are to be commended and that they have set high standards for other MLT classes to follow.

The examinations were given in July of 1972, but the official results were released to the college and Medical Center only recently.

The students passing the examination include Catherine Berry, Gallipolis, Ohio; Roy Chose, Point Pleasant, W. Va.; Christa Cobb, Point Pleasant, W. Va.; Joyce Davis, Nelsonville, Ohio; Teresa Dearth, Nelsonville, Ohio; Cynthia Howard, Nelsonville; Mary Johnson, Gallipolis; Jackie Long, Albany, and Vicky McCain, Oak Hill, Ohio.

According to Educational Coordinator, Steve Elberfeld, all nine graduates are now registered medical laboratory technologists and are all employed in their newly chosen profession.

Cluster Interviews Students

On March 5, 1973, a number of corporations from the Rio Grande College cluster will be on campus to interview all students interested in entering industry. The Office for Student Affairs would like to stress the fact that if there is little response to these companies, there is a great possibility that they will not participate in this program next year. It is an expensive undertaking for each of the companies.

Mr. Evans wants to encourage all students, particularly juniors and seniors in any field, to set up interviews with these companies to see exactly what fields are open in industry regarding their major. All students who are interested in talking with these companies must complete placement folders in the Office for Student Affairs as soon as possible so that we can get an idea of the number of students who will be participating in this program. Each student must complete his placement folder before he will be eligible to interview with any of the companies.

Later in the month there will be specific schedules in the Office for Student Affairs so that students may sign up for interviewing time.

Remember, interviewing is an experience that can benefit you in any field you pursue.

Citizens Advisory Committee

The Rio Grande Community College Citizens Advisory Committee met Thursday evening in the campus dining hall to discuss the four-county study of Community College program possibilities recently completed by Arthur D. Little, Inc., consultants to the Community College from Massachusetts.

All four sub-committees including Physical Resources, Finance, Educational Needs and History and Background were represented at the meeting and all reviewed that portion of the study pertaining to their specific area.

Each committee reported that the study was thorough and well-done and that it should be presented to the Rio Grande Community College Board of Trustees.

Darrell Detty of Oak Hill, a member of the Physical Resources Committee, made a motion that was seconded by Ruth T. George of McArthur, a member of the Educational Needs Committee that the study be approved and presented to the Board of Trustees. The motion carried unanimously.

Members of the Finance Committee, after reviewing their portion of the study, also voted to make a recommendation to the Board of Trustees regarding the proposed financing of the new Community College.

Jack Carsey of Pomeroy, General Co-Chairman of the Advisory Committee, conducted the meeting where a resolution was read from the Rio Grande Community College Board of Trustees establishing a permanent advisory council composed of members of the Advisory Committee.

REDUCED TUITION

Thirteen students have enrolled at Rio Grande College under the reduced tuition plan in effect this semester.

These thirteen are a part of the 608 students enrolled for the first semester according to statistics released today by Dean Brown, director of admissions records.

A total of 48 new students enrolled at Rio Grande this semester. This compares with 50 students enrolling during the first semester last year.

Under the tuition reduction plan, graduates and former students are eligible for a 50 per cent cut in tuition rates.

The plan is for undergraduate students on a space-available basis. To qualify, a person must have graduated from Rio Grande or attended for two or more years and been in acceptable academic standing upon leaving the college. If a non-graduate, they must not have attended an accredited college or university for five years prior to re-registration at Rio Grande.

Students returning under this plan may take classes on a part or full time basis and single alumni have the opportunity for college housing and meals.

Audio-Visual Service

Dr. Charles Hunger, Director of Audio-Visual Services of Kent State University will be on campus on Thursday, March 1 at 3 p. m. to make a presentation to interested students and faculty regarding the use of Audio-Visual materials in the classroom.

Dr. Hunger's invitation to speak at Rio Grande was originally extended by Mrs. Don Braithewaite, after participating in his workshop during the annual meeting of Student Education Associations last fall at Camp Muskingum. Dr. Hunger has conducted all-day workshops for the past two years at the Camp Muskingum meeting and has been enthusiastically received by the participants.

While Dr. Hunger is primarily to speak to the 50 student teachers, SEA and other members of education classes, the meeting will be open to others. To effectively plan for seating arrangements, it is requested that those planning to attend, not currently student teachers inform Mr. Grodin by Tuesday, February 27.

Redman Sports

All-Star Game

MID-OHIO CONFERENCE CHAMPS?

With a 70-66 victory over Cedarville College, the Rio Grande Redmen assured themselves of a share of their first Mid-Ohio Conference title. The Redmen had a rough time in clinching their share of the coveted crown as Cedarville came to play ball, speeding out to an 8-0 lead before Rio scored, and holding a twelve point lead throughout most of the first half. The second half saw the Redmen creep back up on Cedarville, and with only four minutes left, Rio took the lead for the first time, and held on to finish victorious. Ron Lambert again paced the Redmen attack, scoring 20 points. Dan Bollinger and Steve Bartram each shot in 16 points, with Bartram also getting six assists. Bollinger had complete charge of the boards, ripping off 21 rebounds. Mike Rouse pulled down 12 and Ron Lambert had 11.

The Redmen's unblemished

MOC record had a dent knocked into it earlier in the week as they fell to Ohio Dominican 92-77. Rio Grande ran up an unbelievable twenty points lead in the first seven minutes of the game and it appeared they would have a cakewalk the rest of the way. But apparently Ohio Dominican didn't like the icing on the cake as they started an even more unbelievable rally that left them only four points down at the half. The rally, led by league leading scorer and rebounder Ken Richardson's 32 points and 23 rebounds, continued into the second half as Ohio Dominican sped into the lead.

Rio stayed within distance, and several times were able to regain the lead, but Ohio Dominican turned it on in the final minutes to build up an insurmountable lead. Ron Lambert was Rio's leading scorer, knocking in 26 points. Dale Thompson scored 16 points and had three assists. Steve Bartram, who missed part of the first half due to a twisted ankle, popped in 14 points, and Dan Bollinger scored 12. Bollinger had 11 rebounds, with Lambert getting 10.

In the MOC, Rio has a 6-1 record. Urbana is the only team that can take a share of the MOC crown from Rio, with their record standing at 3-2. Ohio Dominican has completed MOC play with a 4-4 record. Cedarville stands at 2-4 and Malone at 1-5.

Ron Lambert 22.0 scoring average continues to be second behind Ken Richardson's 25.3 average. Lambert is seventh in the MOC in field goal percentage (51.8), and Dean Fausnaugh is twelfth (48.6). Lambert is also fourth in the rebounding department (9.4). Dan Bollinger is fifth (9.1), and Mike Rouse is eighth (7.4). In MOC free throw shooting percentage Steve Bartram hold fourth place with 78.1 percent. Ron Lambert has the sixth spot, hitting 75.2 percent of his foul shots. Dave Poling is eleventh with a 70.8 percent.

JV's Win Two

The Rio Grande J.V.'s avenged an earlier loss to Ohio Dominican as they thumped Dominican 82-72. The J.V.'s led throughout the entire game, having a 43-38 advantage at half-time. Tom Smith and Jay Pendleton scored 39 points between them, with Smith scoring 20 and Pendleton 19. Pendleton also connected for nine assists. Steve Clark led the rebounding with 11, followed closely by Smity's 10 rebounds.

The J.V.'s hiked their season record to 7-6 as they nipped Cedarville 73-71. Cedarville led throughout most of the game, being up by seven at the half. Rio caught up, and the lead changed hands several times in the final minutes. Rio gained a 72-71 lead with forty seconds to go. Cedarville, with the ball, decided to go for the last shot for the win, and proceeded to stall the ball. But with 14 seconds left a Cedarville player made a fatal hesitation in feigning a pass. Jay Pendleton slapped the ball out of his hands, and Tom Smith came up with the ball.

Pendleton was fouled, and sank a foul shot as the game ended, accounting for the final score.
